PORCELAIN TILES

QUANTUM

PORCELAIN TILES

Founded in 2006 by Sheikh Khaled Bagedo, Arabian Ceramic is one of the largest producers in the Middle East and has a daily production of 50 000sq.m.

For more than 16 years, designing and manufacturing floor and wall coverings for public, commercial, and residential settings, Arabian ceramics holds one of the largest share in the middle East market and its strategy is based on trust, partnership and the ability to shape the chain of activity leading from suppliers to end customers.

Quantum Porcelain, the company's new brand is dedicated to the production of porcelain tiles with increased properties, and even more exquisite designs, for floor & wall coverings and outdoor projects.

Produced with the latest technology, refined raw materials and outstanding features, represents the new generation of innovative surface materials.

The extensive range of porcelain surfaces for interiors, exteriors, and decorative tiles meet all the needs of developers, architects and end-users all over the world.

quantum products

Porcelain is a ceramic material characterised by its high degree of compactness and low water absorption - it is precisely from this factor that its most important quality is derived: high resistance to impacts and stresses, and therefore wear, which makes it particularly suitable as a material for facades and as flooring in high-traffic areas. They are harder, therefore more durable, than ceramic tiles. But this doesn't mean that ceramic is not as good! This means, that depending on the requirements one might be a little more advantageous than the other. Depending on how the space is meant to be used, porcelain or ceramic tiles may suit the project better.

sizes and thickness

edges

RECTIFIED: All Tiles are cut/ground on all four sides after the firing stage to maintain uniformity on the length, width, straightness of sides and rectangularity/squareness.

surface structure

PLAIN: Flat punch has been used for the production which means flat surface of the tile. No relief effects are felt touching the surface.

LIGHT TEXTURE: A structured steel punch has been used to mimic natural materials. This effect is normally clearly visible catching a light reflection on the surface of the tiles.

surface finishings

MATT
Glazed Tiles that reflects so little light that no shine is noticeable, creating an uniform appearance.

SATIN MATT
Glazed tiles with a hint of shine creating a look described as velvety.

SPECIAL EFFECTS
Glazed tiles with special digital effects that mimic the natural materials and add exquisite textures.

ANTISLIP MATT
Glazed tiles with slip resistance, developed to prevent slips or to be resistant to slipping. R value from 11 and above are considered anti slip materials.

quantum extra thickness

The exteriors of private homes, as well as public areas with a large influx of people and road traffic, need to have high resistance flooring, low maintenance and with a high non-slip capacity to be completely safe and functional.

One of the great advantages of the 20 mm porcelain is its inalterability over time. Porcelain floors retain their original appearance over time, in addition to keeping intact its high technical performance, such as sudden changes in temperature, resistance to breakage, resistance to bending, resistance to stains, resistance to chemical products, fire resistance, etc.

20 mm Quantum Porcelain tiles are the ideal solution for outdoor installations.

NOTES

A) Except hydrofluoric acid.

B) Resistance to abrasion (PEI Groups):

Floor Tiles for light traffic areas. (Equivalent to PEI II)

Floor Tiles for regular traffic areas. (Equivalent to PEI III)

Floor Tiles for areas of considerable traffic. (Equivalent to PEI IV)

Floor Tiles for heavy traffic areas, except for intensively used public places. (Equivalent to PEI V)

C)

FLOORS (PTV) PENDULUM TEST VALUE 4S*	SLIP POTENTIAL
0 - 24	High
25 - 35	Moderate
36+	Low
75+	Extremely low

* Identifies rubber type #g6 (standard simulated Shoe Sole)
